CBI GETS TIME TO FILE REPLY

New Delhi: The CBI was on Monday granted two weeks time by a special court to file in a proper format the final report in a coal block allocation scam case against Congress leader and industrialist Naveen Jindal, exminister of state for coal Dasari Narayan Rao and others. The probe agency official had moved a plea seeking more to file a final report in a proper format on the ground that he had forwarded the finalised report to his concerned authority and was waiting for their approval. The court of special CBI judge Bharat Parashar, after hearing the contention of the probe agency official, allowed his move and granted the CBI more time to file the final report. "IO (investigation officer) submits that the new director of the CBI has recently taken over and his approval is not obtained so far," the court said. "He says that he needs some time to file the report. Put up the matter for further hearing on February 20," it said. The
